

Moving with Plants Checklist

Before the Move: Preparation Essentials

1. Assess Your Plants: Inventory all plants, noting their size, light needs, and sensitivity to temperature changes. Decide which to take, donate, or sell.
2. Check Regulations: Research state laws for interstate moves, as some areas restrict certain plants to prevent pest spread (e.g., via USDA guidelines).
3. Repot if Necessary: Transfer plants to lightweight, unbreakable pots. Use fresh soil to reduce weight and minimize shock.
4. Prune and Treat: Trim dead leaves and treat for pests. Water thoroughly a few days before the move but avoid overwatering to prevent soggy soil.
5. Gather Supplies: Collect boxes, packing paper, stakes for support, and plastic bags to cover soil and prevent spills.

Packing Your Plants

1. Secure the Soil: Cover pots with plastic to contain dirt, and wrap stems gently with paper or bubble wrap for protection.
2. Box Strategically: Use sturdy boxes with ventilation holes. Place taller plants upright and cushion with packing material to prevent shifting.
3. Label Clearly: Mark boxes as "Fragile - Plants" with arrows indicating "This Side Up" and notes on care (e.g., "Keep in Shade").
4. Climate Control: For sensitive plants, consider insulated boxes or gel packs to maintain temperature.
5. Professional Assistance: Let Buszy Moving's team handle packing if you're unsure—our movers are trained in plant-specific techniques.

During the Move: Transport Tips

1. Load Last, Unload First: Plants should be the last items loaded and first unloaded to minimize time in the vehicle.
2. Vehicle Considerations: Transport in your personal car if possible for climate control. Avoid trunks or hot/cold extremes.
3. Monitor Conditions: Keep plants out of direct sunlight and maintain temperatures between 50-70°F. Stop for air if needed during long drives.
4. Coordinate with Movers: Inform Buszy Moving about your plants so we can prioritize them and use appropriate vehicles.
5. Hydration Check: Lightly mist leaves if the move is extended, but don't water during transit to avoid leaks.

After the Move: Settling In

1. Unpack Immediately: Remove wrappings and place in similar light conditions as before to reduce shock.
2. Water and Feed: Give a gentle watering after a day or two, and hold off on fertilizer for a week to let them adjust.
3. Observe for Stress: Watch for wilting or yellowing; quarantine if pests appear to protect your new space.
4. Reestablish Routines: Gradually introduce to new spots, rotating for even growth.
5. Local Resources: Find nearby nurseries or extension services for advice on regional climate adaptations.
